On the Crossroad: The Hellenistic Kingdom of Cappadocia:

A Brief History as Seen Through Its Royal Coinage

Cappadocia was created as a Persian satrapy by the Achaemenids during their conquest of Anatolia. Cappadocia's sparsely populated lands were purposely populated by Iranian peoples between the mid-sixth century BC and Alexander the Great's conquest of Persia in the mid-fourth century BC to provide a buffer between the Persian heartland and the Greek city-states bordering the Aegean Sea. Cappadocia became a crossroad between the Persian world of the East and the Hellenistic world of the Mediterranean. Both influences would be seen in Cappadocia's coinage once the satrapy became a kingdom in its own right soon after Alexander's death in 323 BC. Cappadocia's history was turbulent, and its coins interesting, with some being remarkably beautiful. -- John Ri

Best Christmas party ever!

The Christmas banquet was probably our best ever. Great food, great company and the silver flowed like water.

Just inside the banquet-room door, Lexa [redacted] banquet chair; Denny [redacted]; and Joan [redacted] sat at a table piled high with wrapped presents and collected dinner money from members as they arrived. This year the club paid $25 of each $40 meal's cost.

Work began several months earlier when Steve Petty negotiated the catering contract and ended just before the banquet with Lexa, Denny and Joan wrapping 15 silver rounds and other gifts as door prizes.

John King set the tone with his invocation that reminded all of us how blessed we are to be members of a club that is so welcoming and accepting. Lexa said a record 67 people attended (including one who still owes $10 because he didn't have enough cash in his wallet to pay the tab).

President Spence Sunderland presented this year's awards

Best Presentation - James [redacted], for his talk on type set albums and collecting

Star Performance award - Harold [redacted], for keeping us straight with the IRS and other help

President's Award - Bruce [redacted], our historian

Spence also gave Oakstone Academy, our meeting place, a $2,200 check for scholarships and Cheryl [redacted], a life-member plaque.

The evening ended with the awarding of wrapped door prizes that included 15 silver rounds in flips with a special CONA 2018 / HAPPY HOLIDAYS / MERRY CHRISTMAS insert.

From our ANA district rep

Hi all,

Well I sat down the other day and thought about the last year, did some quick figuring and wow, over 26 meetings and coin shows, over 5000 miles traveled, including the worlds fair of money show in Philly. I guess you all can say I am committed, to what I am not sure, Garlene and I enjoyed our travels. What is on your agenda for this year? We really have no plans yet; a few dates are already marked on the map for the year. Working on a couple of new presentations for meetings and looking forward to more travels. What are your plans for the year, well still enjoy family and friends, shake hands and smile; it will all make you feel good. Don't forget to renew you ANA membership and if you need a form to do so, see me I have lots. Looking forward to one of the close money shows in Pittsburgh in March, It can almost be a day trip.
